PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1917

BOARD REFUSES EXEMPTION CLAIMS FOR EIGHT.

With the departure of the seven young men composing Bourbon county's five per cent. in the first call of drafted men, for their new homes at Camp Taylor, near Louisville, but little is heard on the streets in regard to the next call. Before their departure a flashlight picture was taken as they stood on the plaza in front of the court house, and they were presented by County Clerk Pearce Paton with a plentiful supply of tobacco, cigarettes, toilet articles, etc., given to them by contributions of the citizens of Paris.

The next call, or men to fill out Bourbon county's quota will become effective between September 19 and 25, when forty per cent. of the full quota, or fifty-six men, will be summoned for enlistment in the service of the United States.

Requests for exemption upon various grounds preferred by eight men who passed the physical examination were turned down by the Bourbon County Board of Exemption as follows:

Omar Mertz, Tenth and Main streets, Paris; V. D. McGoldrick, Main street, Paris; Clement Dunnigan, Vine street, Paris; Forrest Saunders Day, Route No. 2, Paris; Charles Edward Mason, North Middletown; Edward Mitchell, Route 5, Paris; Alfred Biddle, Route 6, Paris; Hiram Redding, Millersburg.

All claims whatever for exemption were waived by Frank Clay Redmon, of near Paris, and he was accepted. Claims for exemption made by Washington Holmes, of Bourbon, who had passed the examination, were withdrawn by him, and he, also, was placed on the accepted list.

Eighty-eight other young men of the city and county were excused from army service, their claims for exemption having been allowed by the local board. The same have been certified to the District Board for the Eastern District of Kentucky, in session at Lexington. The list is given below:

- (331) 585—Will Wiggins, R. D. 5, Paris.
- (347) 878—Ambrose Lee Jones, North Middletown.
- (387) 1260—James Irvine, R. D. 7, Paris.
- (394) 681—Walter Irvine Coy, Carlisle.
- (383) 1121—Geo. O. Blackaby, R. D. 1, Chilesburg.
- (401) 1390—Cal Herrington, R. D. 5, Paris.
- (404) 725—Homer Herbert Lowry, Carlisle.
- (429) 257—James Boaz, Nineteenth Street, Paris.
- (430) 1109—Louis Rose, R. D. 2, Paris.
- (434) 807—Wm. Henry Rankin, R. D. 2, Paris.
- (440) 285—James Hubbard, 1953 Main Street, Paris.
- (443) 1051—Grover Oder, Hutchison.
- (444) 560—Rufus Lanter, R. D. 9, Carlisle.
- (448) 1435—George William Wyatt, R. D. 9, Cynthia.
- (449) 1163—John Alfred Burden, Paris.
- (450) 146—William Powell, Main Street, Paris.
- (451) 843—Jesse William Case, R. D. 1, Paris.
- (452) 1050—Charlie Osborne, Hutchison.
- (453) 1376—Len Dyehouse, Shawhan.

EXPERT TO SUPERINTEND DRY CLEANING PLANT.

The Paris Electric Dry Cleaning Co. has secured the services of Mr. David Traugott, of Cincinnati, to take charge of their plant and superintend the mechanical department. Mr. Traugott comes to Paris highly recommended, having been connected with Teasdale's famous plant in Cincinnati for some time.

With the facilities of the Electric Dry Cleaning Co., and the experience of Mr. Traugott, they are ready and prepared to handle any work in their line with the guarantee to their customers that they will get the best that can be had anywhere.

The ladies as well as the gentlemen of Paris are invited to send their best "duds" to this concern and have them made to look like new fall and winter garments. (It)

JUDGMENT FOR $25,000 AGAINST BARKSDALE HAMLET.

Judgment was taken by the Commonwealth in the Franklin Circuit Court for $25,000 against former State Superintendent Barksdale Hamlett and his bondsmen in the suit for school funds alleged to have been paid out by him for expenses and salaries without authority of law. His bondsmen were Rufus H. Vansant, the late John C. C. Mayo and D. W. Gardner. Similar suits are pending against former Supts. Regenstein and Crabbe for less amounts. The defendants refuse to amend their answers and prayed an appeal in the Hamlett case.

SECOND REGIMENT SOLDIERS AND BAND VISIT PARIS.

Headed by their splendid band of fifty pieces, and accompanied by several officers, a squad of twenty-five picked men from various companies of the Second Kentucky Regiment, in camp at Camp Stanley, near Lexington, visited Paris Saturday morning. They were advertising the big athletic meeting, track events and exhibition drills to be given in Lexington this (Tuesday) afternoon.

The detachment came in on a special open car and trailer on the interurban line, Saturday morning. The truck was elaborately decorated with American flags and bunting. After parading the principal streets, a stop was made near THE NEWS office, where the band gave a musical program of excellent merit. The infantry squad gave a number of camp yells, and spell-binders accompanying them told of the big athletic events to take place to-day.

After leaving Paris the band and the detachment of soldiers visited Georgetown, Frankfort, Nicholasville and Versailles, where the program was repeated, the boys being greeted by large and enthusiastic crowds at each place.

This (Tuesday) morning the soldiers of the Second and Third Kentucky will form at Camp Stanley and will hike to Lexington, where they will parade through the streets and then march to the K. T. H. B. A. trotting track grounds. At the conclusion of the afternoon's program, Colonel Jouett Henry, in command of the Kentucky brigade during the absence of General Roger D. Williams, will review the troops, possibly the last time the two regiments will be reviewed on Kentucky soil until they come back from France.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG IN "THE EASIEST WAY."

Clara Kimball Young in "The Easiest Way," a photodrama version of what has been recognized as the greatest American drama, will be the attraction at the Alamo Theatre and Paris Grand Opera House to-morrow, Wednesday, afternoon and night. This Selznick-Pictures production was directed by Albert Capellani, who won the highest laurels with his screen version of "The Common Law." "The Easiest Way" is by Eugene Walter, another distinguished addition to the list of famous authors who have furnished Selznick-Picture stories.

"The Easiest Way" is the story of an actress who battles hard to win recognition, but encounters everywhere the sort of underground politics and jealousies which baffle so many beginners in theatrical careers. Miss Young, as Laura Murdock, has the most powerful role of her entire career, and her acting is supreme. In the supporting cast is Joseph Kilgour, as the wealthy broker, the role he played in the original Belasco production. Another important part is played by Rockcliffe Fellows, a popular leading man. Other favorites in the cast are Louise Bates, Frank Kingdon, Cleo Desmond, George Stevens, Mae Hopkins and Walter McEwan.

CAMPING AT BLUE LICKS.

The following jolly camping party left yesterday for a ten-days' outing at Blue Licks: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Judy and T. J. Judy, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Clendenin, Miss Mary Louise Clendenin, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Howard, Mrs. Frank Kiser, Mrs. W. G. McClintock, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Marshall and Wm. Marshall, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rice.

BUY HANDSOME TOWN HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Thompson yesterday purchased of Mrs. Ruby Arnsperger her beautiful home on Duncan avenue. The price paid was said to be about $7,000. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and family will move to Paris to make their future home about November 1st.

WILL LIVE IN CALIFORNIA.

Dr. Graham Edgar, formerly of Paris, and a brother of Mrs. J. T. Vansant, has taken a splendid position in the new Troop School of Technology, in Pasadena, California. Dr. Edgar has been a member of the faculty of the University of Virginia for several years.

Mrs. Edgar, who has been spending the summer in Lexington with her mother, Mrs. Alfred Marshall, left last week for her home at the University of Virginia, thence to Princeton University to visit her sister, Mrs. Wertenbaker, until the first of October, when she will go to Pasadena, to join Dr. Edgar.

NURSES' GRADUATING CLASS AT MASSIE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

For the first time in its history the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, will furnish the setting for a class of graduate nurse, who have been taking the prescribed course in nursing at this institution.

On Thursday, September 27, in the Nurses' Home at the institution will be held the graduating exercises of the first class of the Massie Memorial Hospital School of Nurses, when three young ladies, Misses Mattie Harley, Minnie Robinson and Annetta Gray, will receive their diplomas and will take the Florence Nightingale Pledge, which evolves them into full-fledged members of the nursing corps. Miss Harney will be the honor graduate of the class. She has been one of the most faithful and studious members of the class, and finished the course with high honors. Misses Robinson and Gray have likewise been devoted to their work, and will make their entry from the school under the most favorable circumstances. The exercises will mark a new era in the life of the Massie Memorial Hospital, and will be the means of putting before the young women of the community who desire to become nurses the advantages of entering the Massie Memorial School of Nursing, where they may receive the best of training for their profession under skilled and competent tutors.

The following is the program which will be observed at the graduation exercises of the class of 1917:

Music Selected
Invocation Rev. Geo. H. Harris
Music (Selected) Mrs. Frank Fithian
Address Hon. C. M. Thomas
Administration of Florence Nightingale Pledge.
Presentation of Diplomas
Miss Boehme, Superintendent
Mrs. M. H. Dailey, Accompanist.

OH, THE NERVE!

Last Friday night while Chief of Police Link was on duty investigating several police cases, a thief or thieves visited his home and looted the place of every flower and growing plant that adorned it. A number of shrubs were literally torn up by the roots, and the whole horticulture collection taken away. Chief Link's hardest case is now before him for solution, as the depredators worked silently, swiftly and surely, leaving absolutely no clue behind them.

HANCOCK HORSES KILLED WHEN SHIP SUNK BY U-BOATS.

News was received here yesterday that A. B. Hancock, of this city, suffered the loss of a fine imported stallion and a number of broodmares recently purchased in England by the sinking of the vessel on which they were being brought to this country as the result of an attack by a German submarine.

Included in the shipment was the imported stallion, Maiden Erleigh, for which Mr. Hancock is said to have paid $18,000 at the Newmarket sales. The stallion and the mares were purchased at the sale of J. Musker and were being brought over to Mr. Hancock's place near this city, when they were lost.

It was stated at the Hancock home, that he received a cablegram Friday from Moorehouse, the agent in London, through whom the horses were purchased, notifying him that they had "gone down" with the Minnehaha, on which they were shipped. Mr. Hancock has cabled Moorehouse and also wired the New York office of the steamship company for further details, but so far has heard nothing, but he feels that Moorehouse's cablegram briefly stated the facts.

METHODIST PASTORS GIVEN ASSIGNMENTS.

The closing day of the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist church, which has been in session in Lexington, was devoted to debates on subjects important to the church. A resolution offered by Rev. E. G. B. Mann, Presiding Elder of the Lexington District, to remove the four-year limit from the pastorate, was adopted by a vote of ninety-one to thirty-three.

In the assignment of pastors for the coming year Rev. W. O. Sadler, of Paris, goes to the Scott street church in Covington, while Rev. G. R. Combs, of Lexington, comes to Paris; Rev. E. E. Jackson, to Hutchison; Rev. J. W. Gardner to Millersburg; Rev. C. C. Fisher to remain as President of Millersburg College.

TRAIN WRECK LIBERATES FIERY ACID ON MAN.

In a freight wreck which occurred near Paris on the Paris and Winchester division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, Friday night, fourteen cars were derailed and demolished, a man named Elmer Osborne, of Winchester, was badly burned about the face, back and hands by the breaking of a number of carboys containing acids. Osborne's presence on the train was unknown to the train crew.

The wreck occurred near Plummer station, the cause being unknown. The train, a northbound freight, loaded with general merchandise, among which were several cars of acids en route to a munition factory, was going at a moderate rate of speed. Wrecking trains from Paris went to the scene at once and cleared the wreckage. All passenger trains on that division had to be detoured by way of Lexington.

Osborne was sent to the Massie Memorial Hospital, where his injuries were given prompt treatment. He was reported yesterday as resting very comfortably, with good prospects of complete recovery.

Immediately after receiving details of the accident L. & N. officials communicated with Supt. Newton Mitchell, of the Paris Water Company, and notified him of the circumstances. The pumping plant was shut down until it could be ascertained whether any of the acid which had flowed into a small stream nearby had reached Stoner Creek, which was thought probable. Farmers in the vicinity were also warned not to permit their cattle or other stock near the stream. Up to yesterday no traces of the acid in the water had been discovered and it was supposed to have evaporated or absorbed in the soil.

SNEAK THIEVES STEAL DIAMONDS AND JEWELS.

During the absence of the family Sunday afternoon the home of Mr. E. E. Woods, near Stop No. 34, on the Paris and Lexington interurban line, was visited by thieves, who effected an entrance through a rear window. The thief ransacked the house, and secured a diamond ring, two diamond earrings, a Smith & Wesson revolver and a sum of money in currency, which had been locked in a desk.

Upon returning Mr. Woods and family discovered the marauder's visit, and called Chief of Police Fred Link by telephone. Chief Link and Deputy Sheriff Marshall went to the Woods home in an auto and made an investigation, but were unable to obtain a clue as to the identity of the thief. The police of all the surrounding cities were notified of the robbery.

Detectives Stewart and Lieut. Price, of the Lexington police force, arrested Grover Cleveland Morgan, alias Jim Porter, of Maysville, in Lexington yesterday, charged with the theft.

Morgan had been trying to dispose of a pair of diamond earrings at a store on Water street. According to the police, Morgan had all the other stolen articles in his possession. He claimed to have found the earrings and to have purchased the revolver from a negro in Paris. The articles were identified as the ones belonging to Mr. Wood. Morgan was sent to the Greendale Reform School several years ago on a robbery charge, but made his escape.

HAS ARM DISLOCATED.

While riding a pony at the home of Miss Carolyn Roseberry, on the Cane Ridge pike, near Paris, Saturday afternoon, Miss Elmata Douglass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Douglass, of Paris, was thrown from her seat when the saddle slipped. She sustained a dislocation of the right shoulder. Miss Douglass, with a party of little girls, had been spending the day at the Roseberry home. She was taken to her home, where she received medical attention, and is resting comfortably.

LOCATES IN THE NORTH.

Eld. John Christopherson, who for the past four years, has been pastor of the North Middletown Christian church, left last week with his family, for Minneapolis, Minn., he having accepted a call to the pastorate of the University Place Christian Church in that city.

Rev. Christopherson had previously accepted a call to the pastorate of the Christian church at Williamsburg, Ky., but secured his release, feeling that he could do more good in a larger field.

MORGAN'S MEN REUNION CLOSES AT OLYMPIA.

The closing session of the reunion of "Morgan's Men," was held at the Olympian Springs Hotel, Friday morning and the majority of the veterans left on the morning train for their homes. The last session was entirely a social affair, and informal as usual. Some of the veterans remained over for the night, and others left on the afternoon train. The morning was devoted in the main to singing the old songs of the Southland, and in story-telling.

Capt. James R. Rogers, of Bourbon county, told at luncheon in an entertaining way of a con hunt in which Col. W. C. P. Brekinridge and Senator James B. Beck took part, the hunt lasting until three o'clock in the morning. Both the hunters appeared in court at eight o'clock to argue important cases the same morning just as if they had not been out all night at hard riding.

The oldest veteran present was Mr. W. D. Fetheringill, of Winchester, who is 87 years old, and the youngest, Lev. P. Young, who admitted that he will be 71 years old in November. Col. James N. Stone, of near North Middletown, was the only bachelor veteran present, and was easily the favorite among the women.

The next meeting will probably be held at Olympian Springs the first week in September, 1918, though the matter of fixing the time and place is left to the president and secretary of the Association. This will be announced as it was this year, a few weeks before the time for the annual meeting.

The following veterans from Bourbon county were present at the reunion:

S. T. Talbott, Company D, Second Kentucky Cavalry.
C. H. Meng, North Middletown, Company C, Ninth Kentucky Cavalry.
J. R. Rogers, Adjutant, Third Kentucky Cavalry.
George W. Morrow, Austerlitz, Company B, Eighth Kentucky Cavalry.
W. C. Stipp, Clintonville, Company D, Eighth Kentucky Cavalry.
Gano Hildreth, Paris, Company B, Eighth Kentucky Cavalry.
Dr. R. D. Weaver, North Middletown, Company C, Fifth Kentucky Cavalry.
J. N. Stone, North Middletown, Company D, Eighth Kentucky Cavalry.

The roster of the members of the old command from Bourbon county who have "crossed over the river" in the past several years, comprise the following: A. T. (Polk) Forsyth, Co. C, Ninth Kentucky; A. J. Bonta, Co. B, Ninth Cavalry; David Ballingal, Co. B, Ninth Cavalry; E. P. Clark, Co. C, Eleventh Cavalry; William Cunningham, Co. A, Second Kentucky; Newton Current, Co. C, Fifth Cavalry; F. M. Gillespie, Co. E, Third Cavalry; George W. Johnson, Co. B, Second Cavalry; C. H. Lowe, Co. D, Eighth Cavalry; W. A. Morris, Co. D, Third Cavalry; Russell Mann, Co. C, Ninth Cavalry; J. T. Quisenberry, Co. A, Eleventh Cavalry; Fred C. Riddell, Co. D, Eighth Cavalry; Ed. Rice, Co. D, Second Cavalry; George W. Righter, Co. K, Ninth Cavalry; Alex Talbott, Co. E, Eighth Cavalry; A. G. Wornall, Co. D, Eighth Cavalry; Buckner Woodford, Co. C, Fifth Cavalry.

SELLS MT. STERLING HOME.

Mr. James M. Hutsell, formerly of Paris and Millersburg, who has been residing in Mt. Sterling, where he has been in the hotel business, has sold his two-story frame residence on Holt avenue, in Mt. Sterling, to Mr. Peter R. Cockrell, of Montgomery county, for $5,000. Possession will be given in thirty days. Mr. Hutsell will begin the erection of a modern home on his farm on the Maysville pike, about three miles from Mt. Sterling.

SELLS BOURBON FARM.

Through the Paris Realty Co., Mr. I. D. Thompson has sold 220 acres of his fine farm, located on the Clintonville pike, near Paris, at about $170 per acre, or a sum said to be in excess of $27,000.

Mr. Frank Clay bought eighty acres of the farm and Mr. J. J. Haggard, of Clark county, secured 140 acres lying on the east side of the L. & N. railroad tracks, and forty acres on the west side. The latter includes the Thompson home and a small frontage on the Clintonville pike. Mr. Thompson retains 175 or 180 acres, on which are tobacco barns and a fine stock barn.

PARIS FIRM LOSES OUT.

In the Harrison Circuit Court the suit of Charles T. Eals, of Cynthia, real estate agent, against Harris & Speakes, was decided in Mr. Eals' favor, he securing a verdict awarding him $230.

Mr. Eals sued the Paris firm for commissions alleged to have been due him for his assistance in selling some farm properties in various localities.

Why Some Towns Grow.

The reason why some towns grow is because there are men of push and energy in them who are not afraid to spend their time and money to boom the town. They erect good buildings, organize stock companies and establish factories, secure railroads, work for public improvements and use every means in their power to induce people to locate in their city.
Wherever they go they tell of the advantages of their city, they write about them in every letter, they send circulars and newspapers to all whom they think they can get to visit the city, and when anyone visits them treats him so kindly that he falls in love with them and their city at once. It is enterprise and everyone pulling together that makes a progressive town and don't let the fact escape your memory.

To hear every person saying something pleasant about its people and its interests is the surest, quickest and easiest way to make a town attractive to a stranger. One of the best ways in which to make a town attractive with that sort of attraction that will draw other people to it is for every man and every woman to have a pleasant word for the people and the town generally.

Talk up your town if you would have it do well. Talk up your town if you would have others come to you. Talk up your town if you would feel an interest in it, and have its people feel an interest in you. There is no better way to do it. And many a time one little word of unpleasant reference to something that does not exactly suit you and not particularly concern you as to that matter, will turn a good man's influence away from your town and may even drive him away. At your own fireside, talk up your town. Among your neighbors talk up your town. When you come in contact with strangers, talk up the most potent agency ever set in motion for helping your town.

We suppose the time will come when any Kentuckian wearing skirts and seeming under forty will be arrested under the curfew laws if seen on the street making for a late train to get out of Louisville.

The Kind of Girl For Us.

The buxom, bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked bouncing lass, who can darn a stocking, mend trousers, make her own frocks, command a regiment of pots and kettles, feed the pigs, chop wood, milk cows, wrestle with the boys, and be a lady withal in company is just the sort of a girl for us and for any worthy man to marry. But you, ye pining, moping, mortgaged, music-murdering, novel-devouring daughters of fashion, and idleness, you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens.

The truth is, dear girls, you want more liberty and less fashionable restraints, more kitchen and less parlor, more leg exercise and less sofa, more pudding and less piano, more frankness and less modesty, more break-fast and less bustle. Loose yourselves a little, enjoy more liberty and less restraint by fashion, breathe the pure atmosphere of freedom, and become something as lovely and beautiful as the God of nature designed.

"The statement of Herbert C. Hoover furnished food for thought," says a contemporary. The only food, alas, that hasn't risen to figures almost prohibitive.

The Printers' "Devil."

The term printer's devil as applied to the boy who does the choring around a printing office has a peculiar romantic history. In early days printing was styled the "black art," and printers were supposed to be in league with Satan. But it was in the time of Aldus Minutius in Venice that the matter took a serious turn. This was the famous printer who first published the Greek and Roman classics. He took into his employ a negro boy who was homeless on the streets of Venice. The people supposed the boy was an imp from Satan and that he assisted in printing. Mobs collected about the office and were about to wreck it, when the boy was brought forward and exhibited, showed that he was flesh and blood, but he was still called the "printer's devil" and every boy in his position ever since has been so called.

AUTO BUS LINE BETWEEN PARIS AND CYNTHIANA.

Mr. Richard Terry, the enterprising proprietor of the Main Street Garage in Cynthiana, has established and put in operation an auto bus line between Paris and Cynthiana, the first run being made yesterday. The bus will leave Cynthiana at 11:00 a. m., arriving at Paris at 11:40 a. m. Returning it will leave Paris at 12:00 m., arriving in Cynthiana at 12:40 p. m. The new arrangement will be a great convenience to the people of both cities and the territory through which the bus line operates in both Bourbon and Harrison counties, since the Louisville & Nashville discontinued the noon accommodation train between Paris and Cynthiana.

KENTUCKY OAK TO BE USED ON BATTLESHIPS.

The Navy Department is looking to Kentucky to furnish much of the deck timber it is preparing to use in the construction of battleships. It made this clear when E. E. Hoogs and Frank Alley, of Morehead, owner of a tract of valuable timber land in Rowan county, called on the chiefs of the Bureau of Construction and Repair and Supplies and Accounts, in company with Representative W. J. Fields.

White oak timber that comes up to the required Government standard is in great demand just at this time for shipbuilding purposes, and when Chief Constructor David W. Taylor and Paymaster Samuel McGowan learned that Mr. Hoogs and Mr. Alley had an abundant supply on their property they let it be known that the Navy Department expects to purchase all the available supply of white oak timber in Kentucky suitable for shipbuilding needs, provided, of course, that the prices asked are not found unreasonable.

KENTUCKY HAS AN IMMENSE CORN ACREAGE.

The immense corn acreage of Kentucky ranges in percentage of condition all the way from 120 in Western Kentucky, where all records will be broken, to 70 in some parts of Central and Eastern Kentucky, where drought conditions were not broken until the latter part of August, the report of Commissioner of Agriculture, Mat S. Cohen, states. Tobacco is hurt some in the eastern section, but pastures have been brought out by late rains.

Commissioner Cohen said he hopes soon to announce the sowing of the largest wheat acreage in the history of Kentucky.

ASSESSORS CONFER ON NEW TAX LAW.

The County Assessors from Woodford, Bourbon, Jessamine, Anderson, Spencer, Henry, Oldham, Owen and Shelby met in Shelbyville, Friday to exchange ideas on the best methods of taking the assessment under the new law, which they say will largely increase the work without providing for any additional compensation. The Hon. George L. Pickett, who was a member of the Tax Commission that framed the bill, met with the assessors and explained the purposes the commission had in view when the act was drafted, and gave them his ideas as to its operation. The assessors were unanimous in the opinion that it would be necessary to largely increase their working force, and incidentally discussed means whereby they could be reimbursed for the extra time and labor required. No definite action, however, was taken.

A HUSTLING WESTERN CITY.

Mrs. Mary Hibler, the venerable mother of Messrs. Harvey and Bishop Hibler, of Paris, sends to THE NEWS a clipping from an Alva, Okla., paper, which was sent to her by Miss Jennie Kirby, who will be remembered as a resident of Paris several years ago.

The clipping has a column of statistics showing the wonderful growth of this Western city, which from a small tent city of a few hundred souls, has risen to a city of 5,000, and is in the center of a large manufacturing and farming community. Alva has twelve churches; four public schools; a $75,000 High School building in course of construction; a State Normal school with a corps of thirty instructors and an enrollment of 500; seven grain elevators; five banks with deposits amounting to over $2,000,000; 4½ miles of fine paved streets; three city parks; two daily and three weekly papers; four hotels; four oil and gas companies; eight big manufacturing plants; two competing lines of railroads; modern water works and sewer system; up-to-date motor equipped fire department; three-story City Hall; and other things too numerous to mention, but all indicative of a live, progressive, hustling city. Many Kentuckians have investments there and quite a number are residents of the city.

One of the greatest assets the town boasts of is a live wire organization, a commercial and farm bureau composed of business men who work day and night for the advancement of the city's interest. No petty jealousies or party politics are permitted for one instant to stand in the way of any measure that is for the good of the whole community. Which, by the way, would be a splendid example to be followed by some Kentucky cities, especially Paris.

THE SHEEP INDUSTRY.

The sale of a ram from Walnut Hall farm at the Salt Lake City sheep sales the past week for $1,600 calls attention to the possibilities of the sheep breeding industry in Central Kentucky. There is a big market for good breeding stock and the Blue Grass region of Kentucky has already established a reputation as a source of such stock. The breeders here have, therefore, a tremendous advantage at the start, and there is not the slightest reason why the number of blooded sheep herds should not be increased.

The sheep industry in the United States prior to the war suffered a period of decline. Notwithstanding the high tariff on wool, the number of sheep decreased for many years. Wool prices are now higher than for years. The demands of the war have consumed all surplus stocks and the world will have a wool shortage for many years to come. Under such conditions wool is sure to bring a high price for a long time. Here in Central Kentucky with a large local population and two large cities near by, within easy reach of larger cities such as Chicago, Cleveland and even Philadelphia and New York, there is a good profit in lambs for slaughter. It appears, therefore, that the farmer who invests a part of his surplus this year in establishing a herd of sheep or increasing a herd already established will make no mistake.

AMERICA'S NATIONAL ARMY REVIEWED BY PRESIDENT

With President Wilson, his Cabinet, high government officials and members of Congress marching at the head of a parade of drafted men from the District of Columbia, the nation Tuesday did honor to the members of the new National Army, which began assembling Wednesday. Aged members of Congress refused carriages and veterans of the blue and gray locked arms and marched throughout the procession. There were 10,000 soldiers and marines in line.

NEWSPAPER MEN QUITTING THE GAME.

Occasionally we find some man who has been in the newspaper game for a long while so utterly reckless as to leave it for work in other lines. Among the latest members of the craft to get into other fields is Mr. Eugene Wise, formerly of the Carlisle Democrat and the Carlisle Advocate, who has gone to college at Parkersville, Missouri; Mr. Teddy Shannon, lately with the Paris Democrat, who has gone back to the farm; Mr. Jephth Nunnelley, formerly co-editor of the Georgetown News and the Midway Clipper, has accepted a position as bookkeeper at the Farmers' Bank of Sadville.

Mr. Hugh Dennis, a member of the staff in the office of the Jessamine News, at Nicholasville, who recently enlisted in the navy, left for the Norfolk, Va., training station yesterday, having been ordered to report there.

BANKS ARE REPORTING THEIR DEPOSITS TO COMMISSIONERS.

Bank reports of deposits subject to taxation on September 1 are being received in every mail by the State Tax Commission. The reports show remarkably large deposits. Chairman Logan said, and are admirably made, except that some report as of the beginning of business September 1 and others as of the close of business. For the sake of uniformity all should be as of the beginning of business.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN.

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry a Corn or Callous So It Lifts Off With Fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of Freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callous, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or callous harden so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of Freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any Freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time. (adv)

NEW WINDOW GLASS.

An English inventor has perfected a new window-glass to keep out cold in winter and heat in summer. The new glass is based on the well-known principle that any gas is a poor conductor of heat or cold. The ideal window glass to resist heat or cold would be a double pane with a vacuum between, as in a thermos bottle. But the vacuum makes the glass so easily breakable that this is not practical. So the inventor has designed a double pane with a space between the halves, smoothly welded at all the edges. The space within is pumped full of carbon dioxide or some similar inert gas. If the pressure of the gas within is equal to the air pressure without, the pane is no more breakable than an ordinary one, and it resists the passages of the heat or cold much longer.

BRITON IN KENTUCKY TO STUDY FOLK SONGS.

The folk songs of old England are being tracked to their lair in the mountain fastnesses of Kentucky by Cecil S. Sharp, of London, England, who is enroute to Eastern Kentucky. Mr. Sharp has devoted his life to the study of folk songs and folk dances and has made several trips to the United States in search of negro folk songs and those of the Southern mountains. This is, however, his first visit to Kentucky. Mr. Sharp will remain in Kentucky for several months.

THE ADAMS EXPRESS CO. WILL AID OUR BOYS ABROAD.

For the benefit of our soldiers and sailors who are now within the war area abroad and many more that will follow, Mr. C. E. Collier, agent of the local office of the Adams Express Company, gave out the following information this morning:

The attention of relatives and friends of those at the front, as well as that of the men in all branches of the governmental service who may soon be on their way, should be called to the foreign service of the Adams Express Company, and the fact that it is at their disposal in the forwarding of parcels abroad at the lowest possible rates, as well as remittances by Travelers' Checks and Money Orders.

The Adams Express Company maintains for the convenience of its patrons, reading and writing rooms, and bureaux for the purchase of railroad and steamship tickets, as well as for the furnishing of general information, at its exclusive offices located as follows:

Paris, France, 28 Rue du Septembre (Place de l'Opera.)
London, S. W. England, 25 Cockspur Street, Charing Cross (Trafalgar Square.)
London, E. C. England, 76 Newgate Street.
Liverpool, England, 21 Water Street.
Bordeaux, France, 12 Place des Quinconces and 2 Rue d'Enghien.
Rotterdam, Holland, 6 Wijde, Nieuwsteeg.
Manchester, England, 9 Mount Street.

Letters and telegrams for relatives or friends may be addressed in care of any of these offices and will be forwarded or held according to the patron's instructions.

ANIMAL SURGERY.

The great advances in medical science which marked the present war have been equalled in the veterinary field. Losses among wounded horses and mules have been cut down to one-fifth of what they were in previous wars. This is the first war in which the veterinary branch has had a separate and autonomous organization. In each of the great armies it has its own ambulances for wounded horses and mules, some of them motor-driven, others horse-drawn. With the Allied forces on the western front there are sixteen hospitals for wounded horses, completely equipped and divided into wards. Here three-fourths of the wounded animals are cured and the remainder painlessly killed.

EVEN TOBACCO "FLYINGS" NOW BEING PURCHASED.

To show the value of everything which can justly be called tobacco this year, it is reported that several local buyers are offering to buy the dry leaves and "flyings," which have fallen from tobacco stalks in the patches.

Heretofore the value of these was so small that they were not considered worth gathering up, but this season the farmers' boys or the men themselves, for that matter, can make good wages by gathering this waste tobacco and bringing it to town.

PART OF MAIN STREET CONSUMED BY FIRE.

The strange spectacle of a street on fire was witnessed here the other afternoon when a puddle of fresh oil became ignited from a spark from a steam roller, which was working nearby. The blaze spread rapidly and more than the street might have burned but for the quick work of the laborers who stopped the spread by means of a sand wall.—Georgetown Times.

KENTUCKY'S GREAT TROTS TO BEGIN OCTOBER 1.

Monday, October 1, is the opening day of Kentucky's Great Tots at Lexington and four races are on the card, amongst them the Walnut Hall Cup $3,000, and the Futurity for 2-year-olds with a guaranteed value of $5,000. Both promise to be bitter contests, especially that for the Cup, in which Ima Jay 2:06, Early Dreams 2:04½, Bussy's Lassie 2:04½, The Woodman 2:06½, Mignola 2:05½, and Peter Chenault 2:07½ are almost certain to come together. It is a great card and the railroads will sell tickets to Lexington at reduced rates.

Success in any enterprise consists largely in knowing when to quit. When a man is in love for the first time he thinks he invented it.

Phon d'Amour

The Phonograph with the Soul of the Violin

Construction of violin-wood at the tone-forming points, patented, and found in Phon d'Amour alone, gives a sweetness and purity of tone that is distinctive of Phon d'Amour—the Phonograph with the Soul of the Violin.

The Diaphragm in Phon d'Amour

It is patented, and can be used in no other instrument.

It is made of violin-wood. It is thoroughly seasoned—it cannot warp.

It is fashioned by skilled workers—it is made entirely by hand.

Phon d'Amour is not an "assembled" Phonograph.

Trade-Mark, Copyright 1917 by The Fritsch Phonograph Company

Every Diaphragm is rigidly tested—any one not coming up to the high standard set by Mr. Fritsch is rejected.

The Result?

Just what you would expect: a tone never harsh or metallic—and sweetness—and resonance—tone mellow as violin-wood construction can make it.

MUNITIONS PLANTS WILL BE HARD HIT BY DRAFT.

Bridgeport, Conn., factories, many of them busy on munitions of war material work, will lose an average of 23 per cent. of their skilled workmen by the draft, according to a census by the State Council of Defense. Some of the most important factories it was stated, will lose as high as 50 per cent. of the men, while the lowest percentage is six. Hundreds of appeals from the draft on industrial grounds have been carried to the district appeal board, but so far only one full exemption has been made. In about three quarters of cases the appeals were denied.

Blessings may come disguised, but the wolf at the door is never masquerading.

Of course women are changeable. It doesn't take the divorce courts to prove that.

THE WEATHER.

The weather forecast as sent out by the Weather Bureau at Washington, indicates a period of slightly cooler weather for Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana, with increasing cloudiness for to-day. The remainder of the week will be uncertain.

The past two or three days have witnessed a remarkable combination of wind, rain, lightning and thunder. On Friday night showers were followed by a vivid display of lightning. The local picture houses were in darkness for thirty minutes caused by the electrical storm disturbing the high tension service of the local electric light plant.

The street lights and lights in stores and residences were put out of commission. No damage was done in the city or county by the storm so far as ascertained.

Early Saturday morning one of the heaviest rains of the present season fell for nearly two hours, doing considerable damage, beating down flowers and vegetation, washing gardens and overflowing small streams.

BOOKS FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Miss Imogene Redmon, librarian of the Paris Public Library, has been designated as the Bourbon county representative of the Kentucky Library War Council, organized for the purpose of supplying books, papers and magazines to the Kentucky troops in the various mobilization camps, and when they are "somewhere in France."

The plan of organization for each county calls for a director and ten leading citizens of the community named by the County Director, as the County Library War Council. It is the duty of this Council to conduct the campaign to raise funds for the purpose of purchasing books, papers and magazines. The assessment is two per cent. of the population according to the 1910 census. The plan is to ask each person in the organization to subscribe $1.00 or more. The members of the Council each in turn are to ask ten other persons each to subscribe $1.00 or more, and they each in turn to get subscribers of $1.00 from residents of the county to assist in making up the assessment. The organization should include every city, town and village in the county. This chain plan of personal solicitation should make it easy to raise the small amount called for.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE CLOSSES.

The Bourbon County Teachers' Institute, which had been in session in this city for five days, closed at noon Friday with an excellent program. Miss Dalton, of Lexington, and Prof. R. H. Ellett, of Millersburg and Clintonville, conducted the institute, and made most excellent leaders. They discussed with the teachers many subjects of vital interest to the rural schools. They are both teachers of long and varied experience, and their practical talks and suggestions were very helpful to all who had the privilege of attending the meetings of the Institute. At the morning session Mr. Z. L. Wilcox, Secretary of the Bourbon County Y. M. C. A., was present and made an interesting talk to the teachers. All the county schools opened yesterday.

Just before the Institute closed the following resolution was presented and adopted by a unanimous vote: "Whereas, The eight years of service of Miss Mabel Robbins, Superintendent of the Bourbon county schools, will end with the present year.

"We, the teachers assembled in the County Institute, desire to express our appreciation of her many kindnesses to the teachers, to bear testimony to her excellent administration of the office, and to extend to her our hearty wishes for her usefulness and success in the fields of education.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION WILL MEET AT CYNTHIANA.

The third annual convention of the Sixth District Christian Endeavor Union will be held in Cynthiana, October 19, 20 and 21. The district is composed of the counties of Anderson, Bourbon, Franklin, Harrison, Fayette, Scott and Woodford. This is one of the most important of several district conventions held in the State during the year and is always well attended.

BIG PRICE PAID FOR TOBACCO PER ACRE.

Mr. Catesby Woodford, of Bourbon county, disposed of his fourteen-acre crop of tobacco Friday to a Mt. Sterling buyer at the record price of $250 per acre, cash down, less six per cent. interest for six months. This is said to be the highest price yet paid for tobacco by the acre.

RUTH LAW ENGAGED FOR FLIGHTS AT STATE FAIR.

To the Editor of THE BOURBON NEWS:

LEXINGTON RACE MEET BEGINS TO-MORROW.

To-morrow will be the opening day of the fall meeting of the Lexington races. A bigger, better fall meeting is predicted this year than ever before by the officials of the Kentucky Association. The reason mainly, is the Breeders' Futurity, which for the first time this year will be run in the fall meeting. The shift of the classic for two-year-olds means the addition of one of the greatest races of the year to the fall meeting. The fall meeting program, always chucked full of good races, has been exceedingly livened by the addition of the big juvenile races, which will be presented in its eighth renewal this year.

No vacant space at all, is the statement of Track Superintendent James P. Ross.

The announcement of the officials for the meeting has been made, and assures fair play and good handling of the fall races. Following are the track officials: T. J. Clay, steward; W. H. Shelley, racing secretary; H. Morrissey, starter; S. K. Hughes, timer; J. S. Wallace, entry clerk and assistant secretary; James P. Ross, track superintendent; James T. Shannon, paddock judge, and Peter Wimmer, patrol judge.

John B. McLaughlin, supervisor of the pari-mutuals, by appointment of the State Racing Commission, remained in Lexington all summer and is ready with the betting machines.

ANNUAL AUTUMN DANCE.

Mr. John M. Stuart, who has made quite a record as a successful dance promoter, has another one on tap, and will come to the front with it on next Thursday night, at the Masonic Temple, in this city.

The Annual Autumn Dance will be given on that night, the hours being from nine to three. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Garr's Saxophone Trio. Post-card invitations have been issued announcing that owing to the failure of the music at the last dance the home boys will be charged $1.00, but no admission will be charged visitors.

GREAT HORSES OF THE YEAR.

Every great trotter of the year has been entered for Kentucky's Great Tots at Lexington, and the battle will be worth going hundreds of miles to see. Already the sporting press is making predictions as to the winners of the Kentucky Futurity and The Transylvania, for in the former The Real Lady 2:04 1/4, Miss Bertha Dillon 2:05 1/4, Harvest Gale 2:05 1/4, Emma Magowan 2:07 1/4, Tacta 2:07 1/4, Worthy Volo 2:09 1/4, Bertha McGuire 2:09 1/4 and Leonard 2:07 1/2 are to meet one another and several other great 3-year-olds with slower records, and The Transylvania, with nineteen eligible to start, looks like the best all-age race ever trotted.

FIRE DESTROYS TOBACCO BARN AND CONTENTS.

Fire of unknown origin which broke out in the big tobacco barn on the farm of Mr. W. D. Drake, four miles out on the Frankfort pike, near Lexington, Friday, caused a damage of $4,000. Fifteen acres of tobacco and twenty tons of oats in the building were also destroyed by the flames. A big stock barn nearby was saved through the efforts of the fire-fighting brigade from the E. R. Bradley farm. Insurance of $750 was carried on the building and its contents.

FALSE FIRE ALARM.

The fire department was called out about eleven o'clock Sunday night by an alarm from Box 33, at Main and Fifteenth streets. Upon reaching the vicinity of the box no evidence of fire anywhere was discovered. The firemen investigated, but returned without discovering any clue to the party who turned in the false alarm.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS IRVINGTON CHURCH.

The First Baptist church, at Irvington, Ky., was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire Saturday night. The building was frame, to which additions costing $1,200 has been made during the past year, and was partly insured. Work of an amateur bucket brigade saved the homes of Joe Tom Mattingly and G. T. Marshall adjoining the church on either side.

LAND SOLD.

Mr. Harry Mitchell purchased of Mrs. John Tarr, four acres of land in the rear of her residence on Cypress street, running back to Houston creek. The land adjoins the Wetherall property recently purchased by Mr. Mitchell.

FORGETS NAME OF FIANCEE.

A middle-aged man presented himself to the County Clerk at Carlisle, Friday, and asked for a marriage license. All went well until the clerk asked the prospective groom the name of the bride-to-be. Then there came a halt. He did not know her name, and he had to leave the courthouse to find out. Finally he returned with the name, the license was issued and the marriage took place. It was the groom's second marriage.

LET'S ALL RETURN THANKS FOR THIS!

Dispatches from New York to the daily papers and the leading automobile trade journals bear this cheerful and blessed information:

"Because muffler cut-outs on automobiles have no mechanical value and add merely another unnecessary noise to American life, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce has recommended their elimination from all cars built in this country after January 1, 1918. It was announced here recently. Nearly half the 110 automobile makers in the Chamber do not fit muffler cut-outs on their present cars."

AUTOS FIGURE IN TWO COLLISIONS.

In a collision which occurred between autos driven by Dr. J. A. Orr, of Paris, and Mr. Edward Burris, of Little Rock, on Cypress street Friday, both machines were considerably damaged. Mr. Burris received a slight cut on the face. The Orr machine had a broken fender, and radiator hood and a front axle bent. Mr. Burris' auto had the radiator damaged in the mix-up. Dr. Orr was driving south on Cypress street and Mr. Burris going north, when one of the machines swerved, causing the crash.

Friday night an auto standing in front of the P. M. Heller meat market on Main street, was run into by another machine, both being slightly damaged.

No. 3 A Motor Launch Raid on the Belgian Coast

By A SEA SLUG,
British Service Name For Crews
of Submarine Chasers.
Copyright, 1917, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.

PROLOGUE.

The author of this series of four articles is a young American, who has spent most of his time since the war started with the British patrol fleet, taking an important part in helping to organize that branch of the service known as the Sea Slugs.

He has accumulated a remarkable collection of anecdotes incident to this exciting branch of the service, and many of these were, personal adventures in which he took part and which make one of the stirring narratives to come out of the war. He recently returned to the United States to assist the American navy in organizing the same branch of the service and should be of great value because of his experience abroad. So far as known, he is the only American to serve with the British patrol prior to the advent of the United States destroyer flotilla in British waters. Of course some of his experiences, of military value to the enemy, cannot be related. At the request of the service publication of his name is withheld.

It is better that I do not mention the name of the Sea Slug who conceived the idea of a motor launch raid on the coast of Belgium—that part of the coast held by Germany, bordered by a maze of mines, girt by a moving belt of gunboats and patrol craft and freckled with a series of land batteries which make the experts say it would be mathematically impossible to smash into the naval bases from the sea side.

The British government prefers to keep his name secret for the present, so it would not be policy for me to divulge it. When he put the idea up to the commander of the base he said right away:

"I don't want to lose more than six boats. If you can get six crews to volunteer for the service go ahead. I won't order anybody on a raid like that."

Six times six crews volunteered, but only six were allowed to go. We chugged out of Dover just before sundown, every man with a lifebelt strapped under his shoulders, petrol tanks filled to the last drop, ammunition in every available space and every motor thoroughly inspected down to the last screw.

We were thinking only of what a time we were going to give the Boches. The boys that wigwagged "Goodbye" to us believed they had seen us for the last time, but wished they were with us just the same. Straight for a certain selected spot on the Belgian coast we laid our course, and when night fell we couldn't even see our own boats. There wasn't so much as a pin point of light showing on any of the craft. Every one wore dark uniforms, and every once in awhile when we'd crowd on a little more speed there would suddenly loom up right ahead the dark hull of the boat we were following and we'd almost be aboard her. The men at the wheels had to have their nerve with them.

Over the Mine Fields.

The chap who had proposed the raid—we might as well call him Jones, which is not his name—had figured out the tide conditions to a nicety, and on this particular night we were having the fullest high water of the autumn. Just before we ran into the mine fields we passed a British monitor, about which I will have more to say later, and then began the real work of the expedition.

As every one knows, some mines are set so that they rise and fall with the tide and remain always a certain distance below the surface of the water, and if we didn't hit one of these it would be merely a matter of luck. There were thousands of mines all around us, and there was no earthly way of telling where any of them were.

As for the mines which are anchored always the same distance above the bottom of the sea, we were counting on the extra high tide to take us over these. At least Jones had figured that it would.

There is no moon. We dash along full speed ahead, for we must run in, accomplish our task and run out again before that tide ebbs enough to make it next to impossible for even our light draft craft to escape because of the anchored mines coming to the surface.

The men in each crew have been carefully selected. They are all in the best physical condition, good swimmers, and the Brass Hats (officers) have even made certain that none of them has a cold. A sneeze or a cough might betray us. Despite this, the damp, chilly night air makes one of the men in our boat sneeze suddenly. It sounds to us like the crash of a mine. I don't see why it didn't take the top of the fellow's head off. Our finely made motors, of course, were muffled until you could not distinguish their purr ten feet away.

"A thousand yards or so and we'll be across the fields," says the Brass Hat in our boat. He has it figured down pretty fine. Now we are skimming over a bar, where a heavier boat could not go.

Discover Enemy Destroyers.

We strain our eyes ahead to catch the white gleam of the wake of our leading craft and stare behind to make out the white bow wave of the one following us. It is the only way we can keep ourselves in line.

Presently I pick up out of the blackness of the night a patch of something that is even blacker. A ripple runs down my spine. The great moment has arrived. This is not like chasing a submarine which is trying to hide and which you can almost run circles around. It is more like six mosquitoes tackling a band of giants. If ever they can hit us a slap we will be crushed to jelly.

I point out the black patch to the Brass Hat. He strains through his night glasses, then hands them to me.

"Destroyer!" he says.

The term is well applied, and I realize for the first time what destructive power one of these slick sea fighters has. She is running without lights.

We wonder in whispers whether the other craft have sighted her. There is no way for us to signal them. The man standing at the wheel throws her over a little to starboard, following the white wake of the boat ahead of us.

"They see her," says the Brass Hat next. "They're circling in."

A glance astern shows us that our followers have observed the change in our course. I do not know how far we are from that destroyer. In the dark she looms so big that it seems we must be going to graze her.

There is a lurid stab of red in the darkness ahead—a deafening roar—the smell of battle is in our nostrils. The leader's three inchers has barked. Ours barks at almost the same time. Ours has bitten, for we can see the flash of the explosion as the shell falls on board the destroyer. That is better luck than we had looked for.

The Searchlights Soar the Sea.

The flashes have shown us other craft—destroyers, patrol boats and gunboats. No hope of concealment now. We wait just long enough between shots to make it hard for the Germans to locate us from the flash of the guns. Our engines, with the mufflers open to give us all possible speed, are roaring almost as loudly as the cannon it seems.

The Boches must be confused. They haven't fired on us yet. Searchlights are darting everywhere across the water and in the sky. Their one object is to find and destroy us, but they cannot figure out what to look for. They of course think we have come in through the channel, and their powerful rays sweep the entrance to the harbor and the waters just inside, while others play over the surface from whence we fired our first shots. They don't expect craft of our size to attempt such a daring raid.

How much damage we have done we do not know, but we cease firing and double back, waiting until we are out of the zone from which we started to fight.

I do not suppose any of the Huns ever thought of the little motor launches. They seem jumpy in their nerves, judging by the way they handle the searchlights. Probably they think some new engine of warfare is attacking them, like the tanks which so surprised them in the trenches one fine day.

Umph! Suddenly I am blinded. I think for a hundredth of a second that I am shot, and my head is splitting. It is a searchlight, the rays full and square in my eyes. The gunner fires into the source of the light. It seems to be coming from a gunboat. If he hits her he will be lucky, for it is impossible for us to see anything.

We can hear the "woomph-woomph" of shells dropping into the water around us. We have made up our minds that it is all over, but two of the other boats, not being blinded by the searchlights, turn their fire on our tormentor. If the Germans hold on as we are gone, but they seem to be in a frenzy, and while they sweep round, trying to pick up the other craft, we change our course, and they do not seem able to find us again. They fire on every stick of driftage and spar that darkens the surface of the illuminated water.

Out Over the Dangers of the Mines.

When the rising sun began to streak the sky we were safe. Way off to port lay the monitor we had passed the night before, and the Brass Hat, in command of the expedition, signaled us to run over to her and take account.

The monitor was one of a type much in evidence during the first years of the war, mounting heavy guns forward in an armored turret. The guns were made in America, and most of the monitors were named after American generals.

They were used on work that took them constantly into the mine fields, and for that reason they must have special protection against mines and torpedoes. Just how this is accomplished I do not feel at liberty to tell, but because of it an amusing incident occurred. The first motor launch was running at rather low speed in toward the monitor, so as to come alongside. All of a sudden we saw her sort of climb out of the water, bow first, heel over and lie there as though she had run up on a bar.

A couple of "matloes" (sailors) on the deck of the monitor began swearing at the crew, and every man in the M. L. was thrown off his feet by the shock which stopped the boat. The swearing was not confined to the monitor's men. The M. L. had run high and dry on to the shelf which forms a part of the more or less intricate protection against torpedoes and mines that modern monitors carry. They had to use a crane to get her off.

Well, we had roll call and found only one man slightly hurt. A bit of shell had struck him in the shoulder. A piece the size of a man's palm was imbedded in the side of one of the M. L.'s. We had got off mighty lucky.

I might say here that later six other boats made the experiment again, and only one got back to England, so it isn't such a soft assignment. In that single craft were all the men from the five launches who had survived the hell they ran into. And there was plenty of room, for those who had been lost were many.

Under orders the survivors of that raid refrained from telling what actually happened, but in general it is true that the Germans must have realized what occurred on the first expedition, and they were ready. The element of surprise, which saved us all from going to kingdom come, was absent.

The officer in command of the one which was not destroyed cruised around in the glare of the searchlights until he had gathered in every living thing that still struggled in the water—a man's job in that searching glare of light and hail of shells.

The Hero.

"The sky was red over his head," said one of the men he picked up, "because of the vast number of illuminating bombs and rockets the Huns were using, besides the searchlights and the shells that were bursting. There was light enough to take a moving picture of the scene."

"Any human being would have run, but that chap's a devil or a god. He shouted orders to his men as though he were at maneuvers and fished us out of the water with a boat hook as coolly as if he were merely picking up a buoy and couldn't understand what all the racket was about."

"After he got me on board I saw him fall with the blood spurting from his leg. He grabbed a bit of rope, made a tourniquet himself, using the barrel of his revolver to twist it tight, and directed the work until he had all of us on board."

"How we ever penetrated that barrier of fire and lead and steel I don't know, but we came through and limped into port under our own power."

As I say, I was not on this expedition, and what few details other than those I heard I am not at liberty to tell.

Well, to go back to the monitor. We all went aboard and were given breakfast. In the ward room one of the officers told us some interesting things about their work.

"These tubs," he explained, referring to the monitors, "are not armored. We carry heavy guns forward, and the bar-bette is the only part of the craft that is protected by armor plate."

"All along the coast we have buoys anchored to mark fire positions. We cruise along, pick up one of the buoys and let go a few shots. Of course we know the range and where the German forts and batteries are, although we can't see them. Sometimes we have hydroplanes observing for us, so that we can tell whether we're on the target, but we have been doing it so long and we have the coast so well plotted and the buoys so carefully planted that it's mostly a matter of mathematics."

"It's all very impersonal. We drop a few shells into a harbor or fort, then move on to a new position and drop a few more."

"The Germans don't seem to have any planes along the coast here, and they aren't able to reply with any accuracy whatever, for they can't see us, as we always pick a day with a slight mist or haze or operate at night."

"But the other day we dropped down the coast for a little party, when all of a sudden, after our first shot, a shell plumped into the water just beyond us. We let go another, and the second German shell fell just a little short. Both were in line."

"We thought it was luck, so we moved to a new position. The same thing happened, only this time one shell came on board and did some damage and hurt some of our crew. Of course we thought the Huns must have some planes up giving the batteries our range, but we couldn't spot one anywhere. This sort of thing kept up all morning until it became positively uncanny. The day was heavy with fog, making aerial observation difficult."

How the Germans Got the Range.

"Then an officer who had been an observer in the Russo-Japanese war explained it. The Japanese had used a system at Port Arthur to locate some hidden Russian batteries that this chap said the Germans must be employing, and I guess he was right. In fact, we know now that he was. How we confirmed our original opinion I cannot tell."

"Every one familiar with the principles of artillery fire knows that a shell does not travel in a straight line. It travels in a curve called the trajectory. Elevate a gun of a given caliber to a certain angle and fire it and the trajectory will always be practically the same. The curve varies constantly, becoming steeper as the velocity of the shell decreases and it begins to be affected more and more by gravity.

The Mathematics of It.

"Now, what the Germans had done was this. They erected a series of gauze screens—at least three—between us and a battery which we were accustomed to shell. To hit the target our shells must pass through these screens. Electrical timing devices indicated the length of time the projectile required to travel between the screens, and of course the distance was already known."

"This gave the Germans the velocity of the shell when it reached the screen. The holes it made in the screens gave them three or more points in the curve. This enabled them to plot a section of the curve. They could tell from the explosion the size of the shell approximately. This would enable them to know the velocity with which the shell would leave the gun."

"With these elements—a section of the trajectory, the velocity of the shell when it reached the screens and a knowledge of the initial velocity of a certain sized shell—they had more than enough data to figure out exactly where the projectile came from."

"In fact, they could check themselves on it, because they could plot the whole curve from the section they had with their knowledge of the velocity, and they could figure the straight distance from the velocity of the shell when it reached the screens and the velocity they knew it must have when it left the muzzle of the cannon on board the monitor."

"The best proof that the system worked was the fact that, no matter where we moved to, their shots straddled us, and besides the one which came on board us one of our other ships got a shell in the boiler room."

Well, somebody's always taking the joy out of life, as we say in America. After mess we left the monitor, the little damage which had been done the M. L. that ran up on the shelf having been repaired. Before we went down over the rim of the horizon we saw our friend the monitor steaming as fast as she could go toward some vessels flying the Dutch flag.

"D— all neutrals anyway," said the Brass Hat. He didn't mean that there was anything particularly reprehensible in being neutral, but if there were no neutrals we'd always know who to fire on and who not to. The trouble is that a lot of ships are cruising around under neutral flags and scattering mines in their wake."

"We're always nervous when we're in waters a neutral has just traversed. Down at Dover— But I'm getting ahead of myself. I will tell about what happened at Dover in my next article."

The fourth and concluding article of this series will appear soon. It is entitled

HOW THE ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS ARMIES ARE SWELLING.

The interest that the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and its 1,500 affiliated State and local organizations have aroused in the fight against humanity's most insidious and inveterate enemy, is shown in the fact that during their last sessions, 38 or 45 legislatures enacted anti-tuberculosis laws and 14 passed laws relating to county tuberculosis hospitals. Only seven States and territories failed to take action. Since it has been demonstrated that consumption can be arrested and often cured many people are awakening to the importance of combating the disease by every means suggested and are using their power to force the legislation necessary and joining the vigorous propaganda instituted by anti-tuberculosis organizations. It is only those who do not realize this importance or are ignorant of what can be done for suffering humanity, who are failing to join the army which has enlisted for the war and victory over the plague. It is to spread the glad tidings that consumption may be prevented and often cured by the observance of simple rules of treatment laid down by the doctors who have made a life study of the disease, that the State Tuberculosis Commission is bending its every effort in every means of publicity. Literature treating of every phase of the disease and the method to prevent and cure it has been prepared under its direction, which Dr. W. L. Helzer, its secretary, with office at Frankfort, will send free to any applicant.

CATARH CANNOT BE CURED

With LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

A QUEER PAPER.

(New York Times.)
Eliezer Ben Jehuda, editor of the Haro, a newspaper published in Jerusalem, arrived here on the new Greek steamship Vasilis Constantinos from Patras. Ship news men who welcomed him at the pier were beset by mingled emotions when they learned that the Haro has four editions a year and no extras. The Haro means in English the Light. Mr. Jehuda had come to New York on a rush assignment and he was gravely concerned lest he would not get his story in for the October edition. It was learned that there are no vacancies on the editorial, repertorial or business staff of the Haro.

"OLD HICKORY'S" PIPE OWNED BY MISSISSIPPIAN.

R. D. Harris, of Meridian, Miss., owns what is believed to be the pipe that Gen. Andrew Jackson presented to an Indian chief at Garlandville, on his march to New Orleans. The pipe was found in an Indian mound at Hickory, among the bones and effects of the Indians and was buried a number of years ago, says the Knoxville Sentinel.

Mr. Harris lives at Hickory and says that he has remembrance of the Indian who piloted General Jackson through to Louisiana, having seen the Indian, who was an old man in his (Harris') early boyhood.

The pipe is of pure meerschaum, and as there were no white people in that section at the time, only Indians, the pipe is undoubtedly the one which Gen. Jackson smoked peace to the Indians and secured their help in piloting him to New Orleans to fight the British in 1812. The bowl of the pipe is of rough finish and is identical with the pipe smoked in the days when Mississippi was the hunting ground of Red Men only. The Indian who owned the pipe died sixty years ago, according to Mr. Harris, and was buried in one of the mounds near Hickory.

Natives in that section years ago, following the report that the United States Government had given an Indian chief $30,000 for his services in aiding Gen. Jackson, searched the whole section with divining rods in an effort to find the treasure, which, so far as is known, has never been located.

Mr. Harris, who exhibited the pipe recently, said that the town of Hickory was named for Gen. Jackson, who was called "Old Hickory." He also declares that the Jackson Military Highway passed right through his farm, as he has from boyhood known it as the Jackson road. In further evidence of his claim he says that there is still evidence of the bridge which Gen. Jackson built to carry his troops and wagons over the river.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Paris People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys, assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by your neighbors in Paris.

Wm. W. Dudley, 1729 Cypress St., Paris, says: "Some years ago, I found it necessary to use a kidney remedy and as I had read about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them. They proved to be satisfactory and permanently rid me of kidney complaint. I have good reason to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and advise their use to anyone troubled with a weak or lame back or irregular passages of the kidney secretions."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dudley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

FINDING THE BULLET.

One of the most notable developments in surgery in the war hospitals has been the improvement of means for locating the bullet in a wound. Three electrical methods have been developed, each of them far superior to anything previously in use. One of these devices is magnetic in character; a second, probably the best known, is a telephonic device. The last to be perfected, said to be the best of all, makes use of the galvanometer principle, wherein only the location of the ball, but also the depth to which it has penetrated.

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.

A local nut suggests that Mr. Hoover compile a book of food jokes for the simple minded.

HAS A HIGH OPINION OF CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS.

"I have a high opinion of Chamberlain's Tablets for biliousness and as a laxative," writes Mrs. C. A. Barnes, - Charleston, Ill. "I have never found anything so mild and pleasant to use. My brother has also used these tablets with satisfactory results."

YOUR UNCLE SAMUEL NOW THE WORLD FINANCIER.

(Honolulu Star-Bulletin.)

Attention is drawn by a Honolulu banker to the small size of the half-billion dollar loan compared to the national wealth of the United States, bank deposits or value of farm products. Indeed, the richest country in the world can lend half a billion dollars without more than a ripple in financial circles. Since the war started, not only has the United States steered easily clear of a financial panic, but has wiped out the floating debt of $350,000,000 due Europe on January 1, and absorbed between $750,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 of American securities, which up to a few months ago were held abroad, but which were hurriedly resold to raise war funds.

The Controller of the Treasury estimates that the income of the people of the United States available for investment amounts to $5,000,000,000 a year. This is all in excess of the income devoted to living expenses, and the people of the United States are notoriously living on a scale which could probably be cut in half in the case of several million people.

These figures indicate the comparative affluence of this country at a time when the Allies are borrowing abroad and the Teutons are "living on their expenses," as one banker put it. The conclusion is that after the war the United States must finance the world to replace the tremendous amount of material wealth which has been destroyed.

SUCCESSFUL MEMORY TREATMENT.

(Youth's Companion.)

The late Horace Hutton used to say that having to take a little trouble would impress a fact on anyone's memory so that he would never be able to forget it. In illustration he would tell this story:

"Our waitress, Maggie, could never remember to put salt on the table, and time after time Mrs. Hutton would remind her to do it. One morning it was absent as usual, and I said, 'Maggie, where is the stepladder?' 'It's in the pantry, sir?' 'Please bring it in, Maggie,' I said kindly.

"Maggie brought it in with a look of wonderment on her face.

"Put it right beside the table," I commanded, and when she had done so I added, 'Now, I want you to climb up to the top of it, look over the table and see if there is any salt there.'

"Maggie never forgot the salt again."

NEEDED A CHART.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

"Um, yes! Ah!" remarked the medico in his best bedside manner to his patient as they stood in the consulting room. "I'll give you the following prescription," and he handed him three small packages. The patient opened them and read the direction. "A powder for my headache," he said aloud; "a pellet for my liver," he continued, "and a capsule for my gouty foot." Then he stopped and pondered deeply for a moment. "I say, doctor," he queried, "how'll the little beggars know the right place to go when they get inside?"

PEOPLE SPEAK WELL OF CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS.

BERLAIN'S TABLETS.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBride, Headford, Ont. If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good.

NEW TRENCH WEAPON.

The latest trench weapon is based on the principle that the rifle in trench warfare is little more than a handle for a bayonet. For rifle-fire at any considerable range, the machine gun has largely supplanted the standard rifle. For the hand-to-hand fighting that goes on when a trench is assaulted, the automatic pistol and the bayonet are the most effective weapons. So this latest invention combines the two, in the shape of a tool which carries a bayonet on one end and an automatic pistol on the other. The handle of the instrument carries five extra clips of pistol cartridges. Thirty-six high-power pistol bullets can be discharged in half as many seconds, and the soldier can then use the bayonet.

GREAT FAITH IN CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

"Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy was used by my father about a year ago when he had diarrhoea. It relieved him immediately and by taking three doses he was absolutely cured. He has great faith in this remedy," writes Mrs. W. H. Williams, Stanley, N. Y.

MILLERSBURG

—Mr. Harlan Hurst has returned from a business trip to Cincinnati. Quite a number from here are attending the State Fair at Louisville this week.

—Miss Makemson, of Morgan, arrived Friday as the guest of her niece, Mrs. C. O. Cossaboom.

—Dr. and Mrs. Boxley left Friday for a two-weeks' visit to their sister, Mrs. Ingram, at Crewe, Pa.

—Col. C. M. Best has returned from Virginia, where he entered his nephew, Mr. Harry Roche, at V. M. I. —Miss Alma Duke Jones left Friday for North Carolina, where she will resume her work as instructor in music.

—Miss Elizabeth Miller, of Atlanta, Ga., arrived Thursday as guest of her uncle, Dr. W. M. Miller, and family. She will also enter the M. C.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ollieback and Mr. Chas. Dotz have returned to their homes at Philadelphia, after a two-weeks' visit to Col. and Mrs. C. M. Best.

—Master William Purdy entertained fourteen of his little boy friends Saturday with a picnic luncheon. The little folks had a delightful time.

—The M. C. will open Thursday, some of the teachers having already arrived. Miss Wilson and Mrs. Bramlette have been here for several days. Mrs. Schenck arrived Saturday.

—Dora Green, wife of Joe Green, colored, died Thursday after a lingering illness of cancer of the breast, and was interred in the colored cemetery Saturday afternoon, after a funeral service at the colored Christian church.

—Mr. Wallace Bowles, of the U. S. Navy, is at home on a short furlough. He came in Saturday night, and was received with considerable enthusiasm, as our citizens gathered around him, and gave him the glad hand of welcome.

—Mrs. Ruth Peed and daughter, Miss Carrie, left Sunday for a short visit to Mr. William Peed, and family. They accompanied Miss Dorothy Peed that far on her way to Birmingham, Ala., where she will resume her work as instructor in graded school.

—The Graded School opened here Monday with good attendance. Miss Maguire, the new principal, arrived Sunday, and has taken board and lodging with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Endicott. Miss Martha Viley arrived Monday morning. The place formerly occupied by Miss Kizzie May McDaniel is filled by her sister, Miss Georgia McDaniel.

—All persons subscribing for magazines are earnestly requested after you have read them to leave same at the grocery store of T. D. Judy & Son, where they will be sent to the soldier boys in various camps, also any book that you feel can be spared from your libraries. All donors will please write their names on the magazine or book so that when it reaches its destination it may be known by whom it is sent. This is a good cause. Remember many of our boys will be in camp all winter, and these magazines and books will be a source of much comfort during the long winter months. Let everybody get busy and contribute something.

—Mr. J. P. Auxier and family left Sunday for their home at Francesville, Ind. Mr. Auxier until recently conducted a store in Judyville, a suburb of Millersburg. Some time ago he gave up his store and has been casting about for a location. Recently he decided to go on a farm of his father, Mr. L. G. Auxier, who resides at Edinburg, Ind. The farm is located near Francesville, within twenty miles of Chicago. It is with many regrets that we give these good people up. Mrs. Auxier is one of our most popular and cultured ladies, a daughter of Postmaster J. B. Cray, with a large circle of friends and relatives throughout Central Kentucky, who wish this good family much prosperity in their new field of labor.

DEATHS.

CANTRILL.

—The funeral of Miss Gertrude Cantrill, who died in the Good Samaritan Hospital, in Lexington, Thursday afternoon, following a surgical operation, was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of her nieces, Mrs. C. A. Thomas and Mrs. Claude Garth, on West Third street, in Lexington. Services were conducted by Rev. W. N. Briney, pastor of the Broadway Christian church, in Louisville. The burial took place in the Lexington Cemetery.

Miss Cantrill was born in Scott county, near Newtown, where she spent her girlhood days. She later moved to Bourbon county, where she lived until the death of her mother, when she moved to Shelby county. She remained there about three years, and later moved to Lexington, where she had since made her home with her nieces.

Besides her brothers, Mr. Edward Cantrill, of Paris, and Mr. Claude Cantrill, of Gallatin, Tenn., she is survived by two nephews, Dr. Robt. L. Carrick and Dr. James C. Carrick, both of Lexington, one great-nephew, Dr. Alex Brown, of Lexington, and her nieces, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Garth.

SPEARS MILL ITEMS.

—Mr. James Faulkner, who has been ill for some time, is able to be out again.

—Mr. and Mrs. Tilford Burnett, of Paris, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ballengee.

—Miss Elizabeth Hudnall left Sunday for Richmond, where she will enter State Normal School as a student.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Rev. Ernest Mangum, Mr. and Mrs. Logesten, Mr. and Mrs. Deering, Mrs. Richard Butler, Mrs. Arthur Faulkner, Miss Elizabeth Hudnall and Mrs. S. R. Hudnall attended the sessions of the Elkhorn Baptist Association at Sadieville as delegates from the Spears Mill Baptist church.

—Rev. Ernest Mangum conducted services at the Baptist church both morning and evening Sunday. There was a large attendance at both services. Rev. Mangum will hold services next Sunday. He will make a house-to-house canvass this week of the membership of the congregation, paying a personal call on each one.

MATRIMONIAL.

HARDIN—RYAN.
—Miss Mattie M. Hardin and Mr. John F. Ryan, both of Lexington, secured license here, and were married in the private office of County Clerk Pearce Paton, by Rev. Geo. H. Harris, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

HILL—STURGEON.
—Eld. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, performed the marriage ceremony at one o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Earlywine, uniting Miss Mae Hill and Mr. James Sturgeon, both of this county. The bride was very youthful in appearance, giving her age as sixteen, but brought with her the written consent of her mother, Mrs. Mary Hill Claypool, of Harrison county.

BOWMAN—HARP.
—Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, officiated early Saturday morning at his residence, corner of Main and Tenth streets, at the marriage of Miss Johnnie Bowman and Mr. David Harp, both of Lexington.

The couple came to Paris in a motor car Saturday morning, accompanied by the bride's mother, Mrs. Dora Bowman, and Mr. C. C. Harp, brother of the bridegroom, who were the only attendants and witnesses.

The bride is beautiful and accomplished, and has for several years been secretary in the office of the Martin Wholesale Grocery, in Lexington. Mr. Harp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harp, and a prosperous young farmer.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harp left for a wedding tour, to be absent a month, and on their return will be at home at the residence of the groom, who is engaged in farming on a fine farm on the Russell Cave pike.

LEXINGTON'S BIG ATTRACTION.

The greatest trotting meeting of the year, probably of any year, with $90,000 in stakes and purses, will begin at Lexington, Monday, October 1, and continue ten days. Amongst the stakes to be decided are The Kentucky Futurity ($14,000) for three year-old trotters; The Futurity ($5,000) for two-year-old trotters; The Breeders ($6,000) for two-year-old trotters; the great Transylvania ($5,000) always the greatest race of the year for the all-age division; the Walnut Hall Cup ($3,000) a drawing card always; and the Castleton Cup for which it is certain that Mabel Trusk and St. Frisco will meet to renew the bitter struggles of last year. The railroads of Kentucky are offering reduced rates on account of this.

No, Maude, dear; a woman isn't necessarily a good cook because she roasts her husband.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Comings and Goings of Our People Here, There and Elsewhere.

—Miss Veronica Thompson, of Hamilton, Ohio, is a guest of Mrs. S. H. Pitman, on South Main street.

MAKE GOOD REPORTS.

Reports recently submitted by the secretary and treasurer of the Men's Bible Class of the Paris Christian church, make a good showing. Regular and special offerings taken up during the year have amounted to more than $500, partly applied as follows:

For the relief of the poor, $82.00; Christmas cheer for the poor, $8.25; Bibles for the Massie Memorial Hospital, $8.00; for support of two French orphans, $90.50; for the Army Y. M. C. A., $25.00; for foreign missions, $52.71; for home missions, $64.30.

The class, which now numbers 228 men in its enrollment, was complimented at a recent meeting of the Health and Welfare League by Mrs. Harriet Minaker, Visiting Nurse, for the substantial assistance that had been rendered her in the county and city work.

RELIGIOUS.

—Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday evening at the Baptist church, conducted by B. Y. P. U. Subject, "Bible Reasons Why Church Members Should Attend Prayer Service." All members urged to be present.

—The Third Annual Convention of the Sixth District Christian Endeavor Union will be held in Cynthia, October 19, 20 and 21. The District is composed of the following counties: Anderson, Bourbon, Franklin, Harrison, Fayette, Scott and Woodford. This is one of the most important of several District Conventions held in the State during the year and has always been well attended.

—According to appointment of the General Assembly, last Sunday was observed by the churches and Sunday schools of the Southern Presbyterian church as a day of special prayer for schools and colleges of the country and the youth who will be gathered in them during the present month. In many of the churches special services were held in observance of the day. The Rev. Dr. Henry H. Sweets, of Louisville, is Executive Secretary of the General Assembly's Committee on Christian Education.

—On Friday night the "Blues" of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church were entertained by the losing "Reds." Several weeks ago a contest for new members was held, in which the "Blues" came out victors. The winning and losing teams were both entertained with a lovely party at the home of Mrs. Duncan Bell, captain of the losing team. The young folks enjoyed a number of games and a musical program. Little Miss Anna Elizabeth Swearingen entertained the guests with several violin solos. All present voted Mrs. Bell and her assistants charming hostesses.

STOCK, CROP, ETC.

—Turney C. Collins, of Leesburg, won the following firsts on his fine flock of Cheviot sheep at Columbus, O: First, aged ram; first, yearling ram; first, ewe lamb; first, flock; first, breeders' young flock; first, pen of lambs, bred by exhibitor; first, champion buck, with five flocks showing.

"THE FARMER'S HANDBOOK."

The above is the title of an interesting booklet treating of seed corn selection, just issued by the Louisville & Nashville railroad Company. It is said to be one of the best treatises on the subject that has been put into print. If the suggestions contained in the book are followed out not only an increasing yield will result, but a superior quality of corn. Copies of the book may be obtained free of charge by writing to Mr. G. A. Park, General Immigration and Industrial Agent Louisville and Nashville Ry., Louisville, Ky.

A man may be knave or a fool, but you don't know he is either till he is found out.

Now is the Time to Pack Your Eggs for Winter Use.

Use Silicate of Soda (Liquid Water Glass)

The best proportion is one part of the Water Glass to from ten to twelve parts of recently boiled water. Boil the water, let it cool, then add the water glass. Mix it well with the water. You may then place the eggs in the solution. You do not have to put all the eggs that you want to keep in the solution at one time, as you can keep adding eggs as you get them fresh.

We can furnish you with the liquid water glass in any quantities at the following prices:

Pint.....20c
Quart.....35c
